ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

With all innermost feelings and sincerity, the present investigator extends his profound gratitude to his reverend guide, Dr. N.Vaidya, Professor and Head of the Department of Education and Dean of Instruction, Regional College of Education, Ajmer, under whose genuine and inspiring guidance, the present piece of dissertation could get its present shape within such a limited range of time. The investigator is immensely indebted to him for his cordiality, encouragement and scholarly guidance extended constantly during the course of the performance of this work.

The investigator is extremely grateful to the USAID and H.M.G./ Ministry of Education and Culture, Kathmandu, Nepal for providing him an opportunity to study in India and complete the project.

He is very much grateful to reverend Principal Prof. S.N.Dutta for his inspiring encouragement and providing facilities from time to time.

The investigator expresses his innermost gratitude to Dr.(Mrs.) Amrit Kaur, Reader in Education, Regional College of Education, Ajmer, who took the trouble of getting all the data computerised from New Delhi and providing her inspiring encouragement and cordial co-operation.

The researcher is very much grateful to S.C.Jain, Lecturer in Physics and Dr.(Miss) Padmini M.S. for their valuable advice and unstinted help that he received at every stage of this study.

Special thanks are also due to lecturers Dr. K.S. Narula, Dr. K.K.Vasistha, Dr. B.S.Raizada, V.P.Agrawal, Dr. Sammar, Dr. G.N.Bhardwaj and Dr. J.K.Sood, Reader in Education, Regional College of Education, Ajmer, for their suggestions, encouragement and help.

A word of sincere appreciation is due to Mrs.Lalita Devi Shrestha, Headmasters and teachers of all the schools of Kathmandu and Bhaktapur (Nepal) who offered me their full co-operation in the process of data collection and to the students who undertook the tests cheerfully.

Finally he would like to extend his hearty thanks to Mr. P.Tandon for preparing very neat copy of this investigation.
